

PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT
RESEARCH FOUNDATION, INC.

PLANADES represented by Executive Director, Dr. Tabassam Raza as an International Expert participated in the Emergency Services Department (Rescue 1122), Punjab, training program in capacity building of Punjab Emergency Service's capabilities in collaboration with the University of Engineering & Technology (UET), held at the Emergency Services Department dated January 13, 2026 at Lahore, Pakistan.

The event was organized by Punjab Emergency Service Department in collaboration with the University of Engineering and Technology (UET) and PLANADES, Philippines as international partners. It elevates the Punjab Emergency Service's capabilities, ensuring top-notch emergency response backed by solid research and analytics. The training program was successfully conducted an advanced capacity-building training program on the training program Research Methods for Rescue Officers, aimed at strengthening evidence-based practice within emergency and disaster response services.

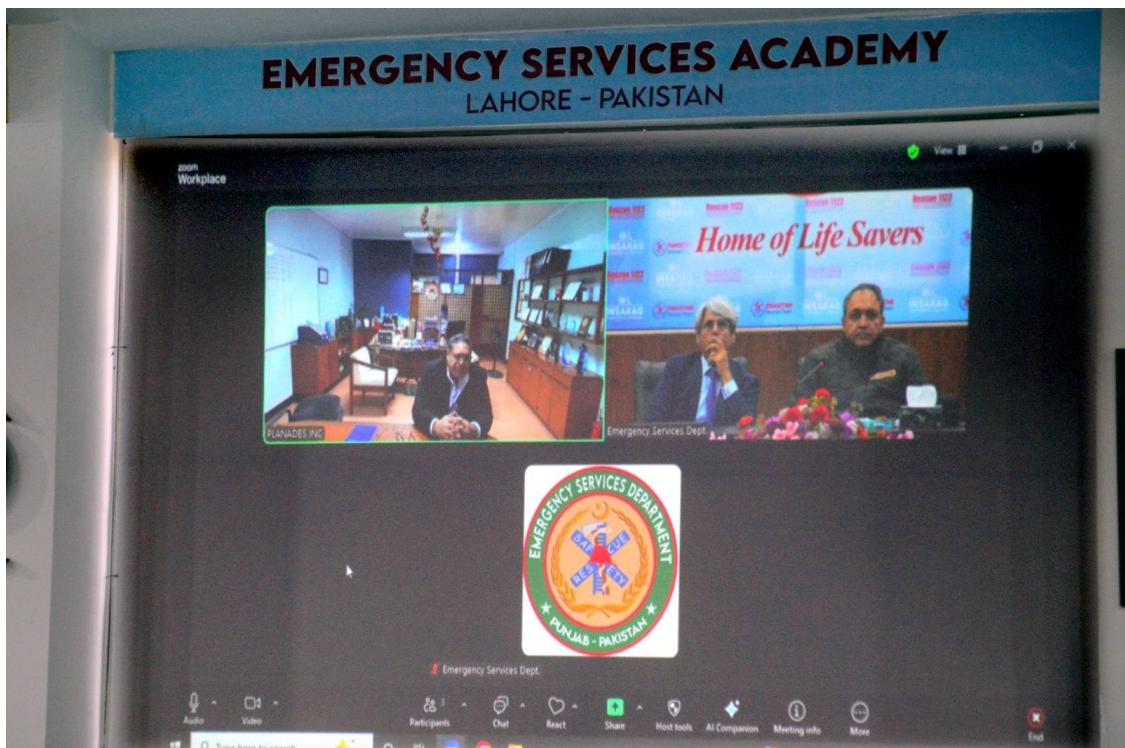

The training was attended and the officers of participated by Punjab Emergency Services Department.

Participants from the training of Rescue Officers on Research Methods.

Source: <https://www.facebook.com/photo?fbid=1209909191327997&set=pcb.1209909291327987>

The program included a specialized session on Research Methods, Ethics, and Research Axiology, led by the renowned academic and subject-matter expert Prof. Dr. Tabassam Raza, whose extensive experience in research governance and methodology provided a strong theoretical and ethical foundation for applied research in emergency services. This was complemented by an in-depth Research Writing and Publication session delivered by Prof. Dr. Tabassam Raza, an international expert and Executive Director of PLANADES, who shared global best practices in scholarly writing, analytical rigor, and dissemination of research outputs.

PLANADES Executive Director Dr. Tabassam Raza conducting Research Writing Session via online,
Source: <https://www.facebook.com/photo?fbid=1209909147994668&set=pcb.1209909291327987>

Shaker Mahmood Mayo, Chairman of City and Regional Planning Department, University of Engineering and Technology (UET), Lahore, delivered his message and lecture on Data Management and research Methodology in conducting Disaster Risk Management related researches.

Together, these sessions ensured a comprehensive, high-level, and internationally benchmarked training experience, reinforcing the commitment of both institutions to advancing research excellence, ethical standards, and knowledge generation within the emergency and disaster risk management sector.

Dr. Shaker Mahmood Mayo from UET, Lahore (Standing on extreme right), delivering message at the event together with the participants from Punjab Emergency Services Department.

Source: <https://www.facebook.com/photo?fbid=1209909094661340&set=pcb.1209909291327987>

Further, PLANADES sincerely extend their gratitude to the Emergency Services Department (Rescue 1122), Punjab, Pakistan for the kind invitation extended and for the opportunity to contribute to this important capacity-building initiative. We highly appreciate Rescue 1122 commitment to strengthening research capability and professional excellence within the emergency and disaster response sector.